BY THE EANM SCIENTIFIC EVENTS COUNCIL CHAIR

VALENTINA GARIBOTTO

EANM SCIENTIFIC EVENTS COUNCIL CHAIR

Dear Colleagues,

It is a great pleasure to invite you to the 39th Annual Congress of the European Association of Nuclear Medicine (EANM'26), which will take place in Vienna on October 17–21, 2026.

At a time when nuclear medicine is evolving at an unprecedented pace, the EANM Annual Congress is increasingly established as key moment to pause, reflect, and collectively define the directions that will shape our field. Like in previous congress editions, EANM'26 is being designed not only to present the latest advances, but also to foster critical dialogue on how innovation, evidence, and collaboration can be translated into meaningful impact for patients and healthcare systems worldwide.

The scientific programme of the congress is developed under a renewed governance model. As Chair of the EANM Scientific Events Council Chair, I oversee the programme together with seven distinguished experts. This newly created EANM Council, launched in January 2026, reflects our commitment to diversity of expertise, openness of perspectives, and scientific excellence. The result is a programme that is both rigorous and forward-looking, shaped by collective intelligence rather than individual vision.

EANM'26 will highlight outstanding research across the full spectrum of nuclear medicine, from breakthrough developments in theranostics and radiopharmaceutical sciences to innovative imaging technologies, quantitative approaches, and clinical translation. As always, the strength of the congress lies in the quality of the science you bring — your research, your curiosity, and your willingness to challenge established paradigms.

Beyond scientific content, the congress aims to stimulate interaction across disciplines, professional backgrounds, and generations. Engaging and empowering younger colleagues remains a strategic priority, as they will drive the next transformations of our specialty. Creating spaces for dialogue, mentorship, and exchange is essential to ensure that progress remains sustainable and inclusive; and we will make sure to embrace this aspect again during our congress.

I truly look forward to welcoming you to Vienna, home of the EANM Executive Office and a city where scientific excellence meets rich artistic and cultural heritage. From architecture to music and philosophy, Vienna embodies the creativity, rigour, and innovation that thrive when disciplines intersect.

In this inspiring setting, I invite you to engage, exchange, and co-create the future of nuclear medicine with us!

Warm reagrds,

Valentina Garibotto
EANM Scientific Events Council Chair

M2M TRACK

M2M – the 13th edition of the 'From Molecule to Man' Track – will explore the forefront of basic science and translational advances in Imaging and Therapy.

Since its introduction in 2014, the M2M sessions have become one of the central pillars of the EANM Annual Congress. The M2M Track fosters cross-disciplinary collaboration among the diverse scientific fields involved in molecular and nuclear imaging and therapy. By offering a platform that spans a broad spectrum of scientific and medical perspectives, the M2M sessions have evolved into a dynamic forum bringing together radiochemists, radiopharmacists, biologists, physicists, and clinicians, all contributing to the translation of fundamental discoveries into clinical applications.

The M2M Track features a carefully curated programme of invited lectures and scientific paper presentations designed to bridge fundamental research with unmet clinical needs. The EANM Committees for Translational Molecular Imaging & Therapy and Radiopharmaceutical Sciences jointly coordinate the scientific programme of the M2M Track.

We look forward to welcoming you to the M2M Track at EANM'26.

WORDS OF WELCOME

BY THE CHAIR OF THE TECHNOLOGISTS COMMITTEE

LUÍSA ROLDÃO PEREIRA

CHAIR OF EANM TECHNOLOGISTS COMMITTEE

Dear fellow Technologists,

It is both a privilege and a genuine pleasure to invite you to the EANM'26 Annual Congress in Vienna, Austria, on behalf of the EANM Technologists Committee.

In Vienna, tradition meets innovation, classical foundations harmonise with forward-thinking ideas. It is, perhaps, the perfect metaphor for Nuclear Medicine today. We are a discipline grounded in strong scientific principles, yet constantly evolving through technological advances, exciting Theranostics paths, stepping into artificial intelligence, and personalised care. At the centre of this evolution stand the patients we care for, but also multidisciplinary teams, of which you, the Nuclear Medicine Technologists, are such a significant part.

Each EANM Congress has its own character, but what never changes is the remarkable energy of our community. Passionate, interested, and ever curious - Technologists are the steady force behind safe, high-quality imaging and therapy. We are the frontline engine, problem-solvers, patient advocates, and increasingly, critical connectors.

At EANM'26, we will once again present a comprehensive and dynamic Technologists' Track, carefully designed to reflect the real priorities of our profession. As such, we will:

- Provide practical, applicable guidance that supports everyday clinical excellence around new working practices and flexible working; offer a focus on radiation protection, dosimetry, paediatrics; and launch our yearly Technologist Guide.

- Offer Mini Courses and sessions designed to sharpen skills and boost confidence in daily practice.

Collaboration continues to be omnipresent in our programme, which was built together with colleagues from other committees and partner societies, reflecting the true interdisciplinary nature of Nuclear Medicine.

As a Portuguese Technologist beginning my first year as Chair of the Technologists Committee, I feel a sense of meaning knowing that the street leading to our congress bears the name of Aristides de Sousa Mendes - a symbol of courage and principled leadership in difficult times. His legacy reminds us that leadership, in any field, is grounded in responsibility, integrity, and service to others - values that are fundamental to our roles.

May Vienna inspire us not only to connect and collaborate, but also to reflect more deeply on our own professional impact - on our patients, our teams, and the future of Nuclear Medicine - while taking time to experience the beauty and spirit of this remarkable city. Join us in Vienna: to learn, to lead, to collaborate, and to enjoy being part of this extraordinary community!

I very much look forward to welcoming you to EANM'26.

Luísa Roldão Pereira,
Chair of EANM Technologists Committee

TECHNOLOGISTS' TRACK

AIRPORT & ARRIVAL INFORMATION

AIRPORT

The Vienna airport is located 25 km south of the city. It takes approximately 25–35 minutes by car to the city centre. Some low-cost airlines fly to the nearby Bratislava airport, located about 1 hour drive from Vienna.

Vienna Airport is very well connected to the city and traffic is seldomly a problem. There are buses, trains, express trains and taxis around the clock. For a quick overview on schedules and transportation, please check the Austrian Federal Railway website (<https://www.oebb.at/en/>).

CITY AIRPORT TRAIN (CAT)

Due to modernisation works, the train service will be temporarily replaced by high-frequency premium buses operating up to five times per hour between the airport and Landstraße/Wien Mitte (connection to metro U3 and U4).

Ticket vending machines are located in the airport's arrivals/baggage area. Current prices at ticket vending machines are approximately €14.90 for a single ticket and €24.90 for a return ticket. More information: <https://www.cityairporttrain.com/en/>

TRAIN (OEBB)

During the EANM'26, parts of the ÖBB line will be affected by modernisation works. Long-distance Railjet trains will continue to connect the airport with the main train station (stop Hauptbahnhof, connection U1).

You need a valid ticket that covers the route from the airport into Vienna. Tickets are available at the OEBB ticket counter in the arrivals area, at ticket vending machines at the airport and stations, and via the ÖBB Ticket app or online at <https://www.oebb.at/en/>

BUS

The airport bus takes 20 to 40 minutes depending on traffic and destination. Three lines (VAB 1–3) operate from the airport bus terminal: VAB 1 to Westbahnhof via Hauptbahnhof every 30 minutes, VAB 2 to Morzinplatz/Schwedenplatz every 30 minutes, and VAB 3 hourly to Donauzentrum/Kagran. VAB 3 stops near the congress center.

One-way tickets cost €11 for adults, and return tickets are €20. Buy tickets on the bus (cash only), from machines at the airport, or online: <https://www.viennaairportbus.com/en/>

TAXI

When leaving the arrival halls, follow signs to the official taxi stands. An average taxi journey from Vienna Airport to downtown takes about 25–40 minutes and costs approx. €37–€45 one-way for up to four people (fixed rates include most surcharges; luggage fees may apply extra for larger groups). Request an 'Airport Taxi' (or German 'Flughafentaxi') for trips back to the airport to secure a fixed price.

Main Taxi Companies:
+43 1 40100 or +43 1 31300

Avoid unofficial taxis outside stands to prevent overcharges.

PRE-BOOKED TRANSFER

To book a transfer in advance is highly recommendable and the companies will offer you fixed rates from €27 to €38 to the city center. Recommended agencies are:

- » Airport Transfer Service (ATS): <https://www.ats-vie.com/en/>
- » Vienna Airport Cab: <https://www.vienna-airport-cab.at/index.php/en/>
- » Airport Driver / ATAV: <https://www.airportdriver.at/en/> or <https://www.atav.at/>

PUBLIC TRANSPORT

Public transportation is the easiest way to get around the city. Vienna's buses, trams, and subways are quick, cheap, and excellent overall. Friday to Sunday, metro services run 24 hours. Always carry a valid ticket! Ticket machines can be found in every metro station.

No complimentary or reduced public transport tickets can be offered. Purchase your ticket via the Wiener Linien website, app, or ticket machines at metro stations. See details at

<https://www.wienerlinien.at/web/wl-en/tickets>

Please note that this ticket is non-refundable and neither ENITED nor EANM are responsible for the purchase of public transport tickets. All enquiries should be directed to the municipal public transport provider Wiener Linien.

For questions, email the Online-Ticketshop-Team at ticketshop@wienerlinien.at or call +43-1-7909-100.
